

Dr. Winnie Tang, JP Invited as VIP Guest at the Annual Dinner 2010 of The British Computer Society (HK Section)

Dr. Winnie Tang, JP, in her capacity of President of Internet Professional Association (iProA), was invited as VIP Guest to attend the Annual Dinner 2010 of The British Computer Society (Hong Kong Section) on May 14, 2010.

A key highlight at the Annual Dinner was a keynote speech delivered by Mr. Nick Yang, Executive Vice President of the HK Polytechnic University, on the topic of "What would be best for Hong Kong's ICT industry in the future?", which has aroused a lot of keen interests amongst the audience. The dinner was well attended by leading IT professionals from different industries where they have enjoyed the networking and exchange of market insights. Dr. Tang was delighted to have met many of her old and new industry friends and enjoyed the sharing of new developments, accomplishments and experiences with one another.

The British Computer Society (BCS) is a worldwide institute for IT professionals, with the objective to provide the study and practice of computing and to advance knowledge of and education in IT for the benefit of the public. BCS (Hong Kong Section) was founded in 1991, and its aims are to provide a platform and to unite and communicate with the BCS members in Hong Kong.

Dr. Winnie Tang (right) and the VIP guests at the Annual Dinner